“SOCIAL MEDIA” AT THE NEW YORK PACE/MAC GILL GALLERY FEATURING DAVID BYRNE

The New York Pace/Mac Gill Gallery and the School of Visual Art's MFA Photography, Video and Related Media Department presents "Social Media", exhibition that will be opened on 15th September 2011, following until 15th October 2011, exploring the world of social media, considering the impact of those new technologies on human expression, interaction and perception, showcasing the works by Christopher Baker, Aram Bartholl, Jonathan Harris, Robert Heineken, Miranda July, Penelope Umbrico and David Byrne. The bright eclectic artist – ex front-man of Talking Heads –, author and musician here will present an unusual work he created, closely connected to the technology developed by Apple, a series of fake applications for the Iphone or Ipod Touch, presenting images of application not existent, including a short description, a little image and the price for each application along with the scores given by the community of users and ironically commenting a contemporary trend, the increase of applications in our culture. A not to be missed happening to explore art and contemporary suggestions.
